Timeset Limit query screenshots

This is a Timeset Limit query which shows how students scored on the NECAP Math assessment in 2 different years statewide. The rows are populated from the 2007-08 NECAP Math assessment. The columns are from the 2008-09 NECAP Math assessment. The students below the line performed worse 2008-09 than compared to 2008-07, the students above the line performed better 2008-09 than compared to 2008-07 in Achievement Level.

To add your School or District

To view your school or district, drag only your school or district name to the rows AND drag your school or district name again to the columns. Thus you should see your school or district name as the left most attribute on the rows and the top most attribute on the columns.

Rows: Schools.School Identity:School Name (Students:2007-2008); NECAP Assessments.Demographics:Grade (Students:2007-2008); NECAP Assessments.Achievement Level:Mathematics (Students:2007-2008);
Columns: Schools.School Identity:School Name (Students:2008-2009); NECAP Assessments.Demographics:Grade (Students:2008-2009); NECAP Assessments.Achievement Level:Mathematics (Students:2008-2009);
Background: Count of Students [Linked]; All Time; Results;

Then right click the School or District attribute name (in bold on the row) and select "Timeset Limit...".

Then select "Students" from the Object dropdown box. For Timeset check 2007-2008, then click OK.
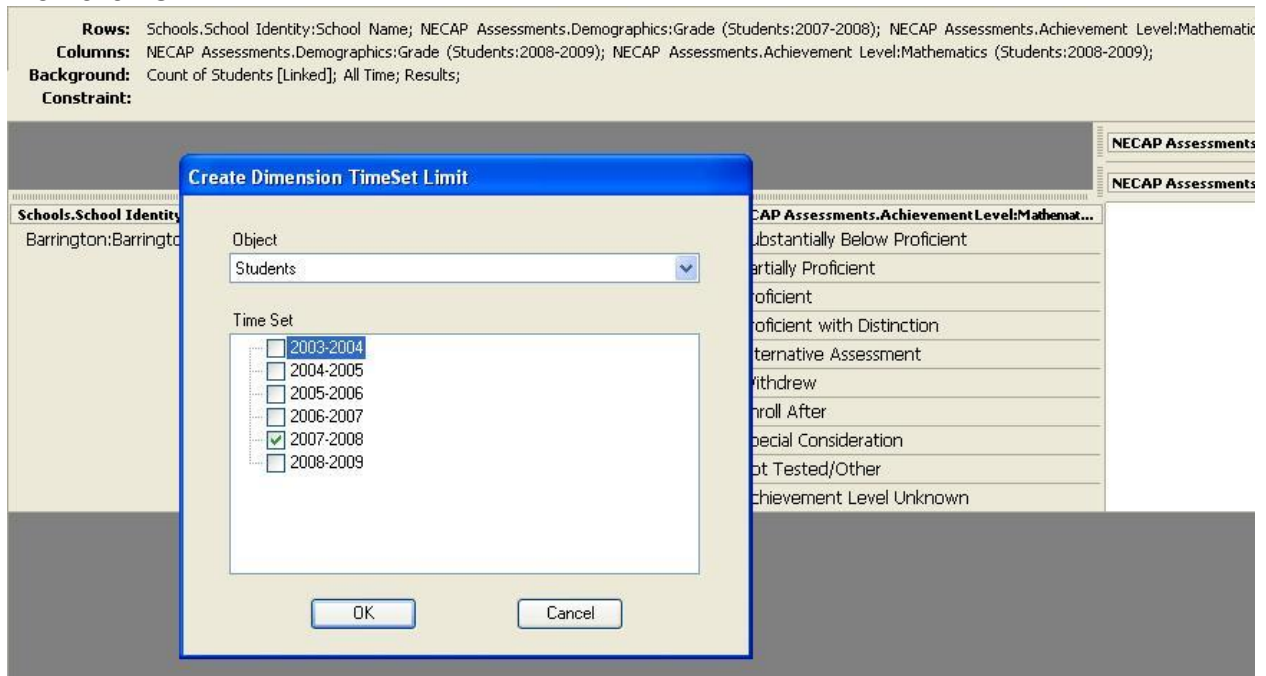

Then right click the School or District attribute name (in bold on the column) and select "Timeset Limit...". Then select "Students" from the Object dropdown box. For Timeset check 2008-2009, then click OK.

This format tells the system to extract data from 2007-2008 on the rows and 2008-2009 on the columns. You should have "All Time" selected in the calendar. Make sure ALL the ROW attributes have (Student:2007-2008) displayed on the summary window and the ALL the COLUMN attributes have (Student:2008-2009) displayed on the summary window.

To Change the Grades

You can change the grade by right clicking the grade attribute name (in bold on the row) and selecting Edit Coordinates.

Unselect Grade 06 and select another grade.
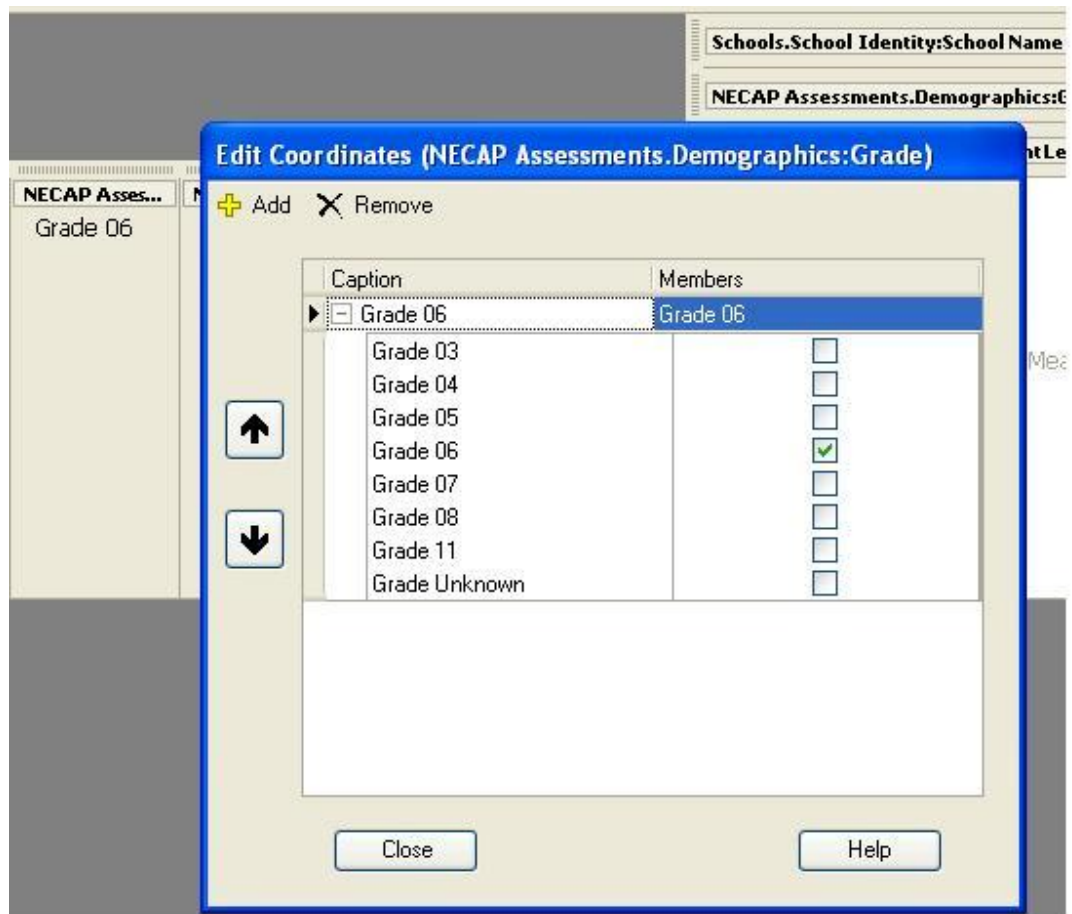

Make sure you change the caption. It should look like this afterwards. You can choose any grade.
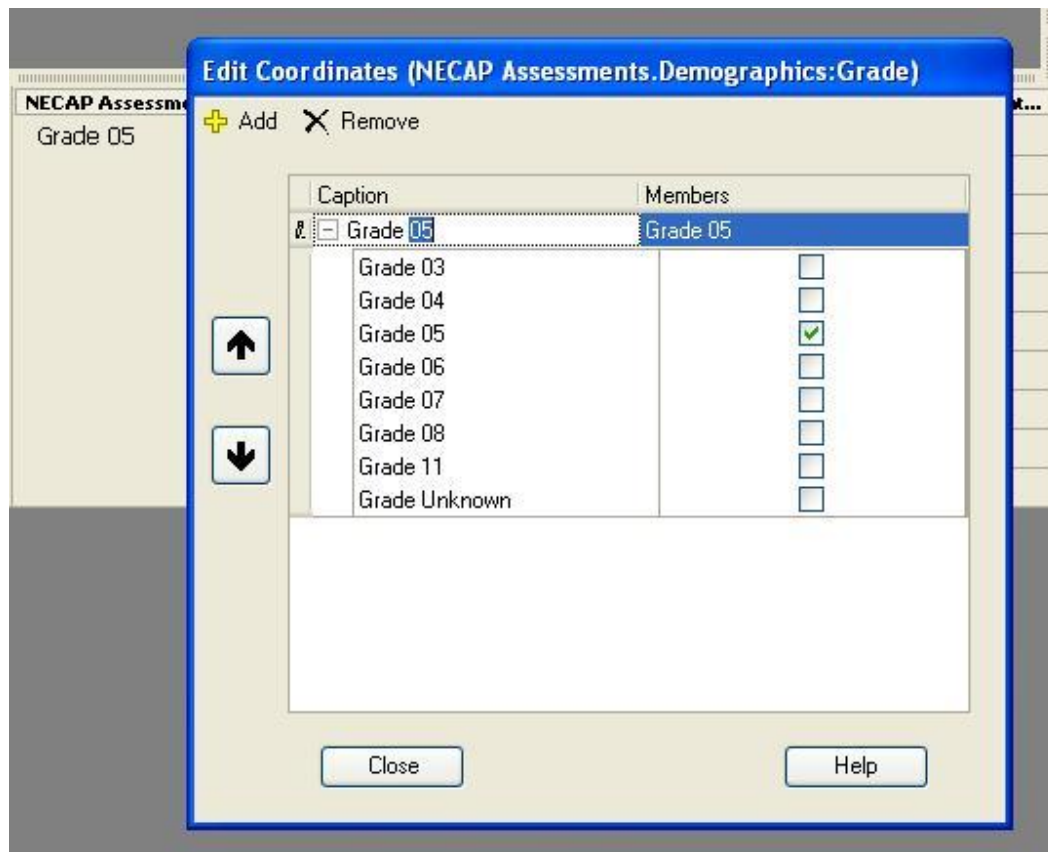

Do the same for the column grade. Make sure the grade on the row is one year less than the grade on the column.

You can also make Grade 08 on the rows and Grade 11 on the columns. You would need to change the timeset on EACH attribute on the rows to 2005-06. Thus students that took the test in 8th grade in 2005-2006 can be compared to Grade 11 in 2008-09. You may need to choose different schools, for example a middle school on the row and a high school on the column.
